SIX THOUSAND MEN IN A PARADE.

New Governor in His Inaugural Condemns the Multiplicity of Laws, Threatens the Use of the Veto and Wants the Trolley Curbed.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 21.—Amid the cheers of thousands, the booming of artillery and the crashing of martial music, John W. Griggs was at noon today inaugurated Governor of New Jersey.

It was one of the most notable events in the history of this State, and at least 10,000 people from other sections of the State were present. The exercises were held in the Legislature, and stepping to the footlights, Mr. Griggs delivered an inaugural address. Rev. Dr. Dixon, of the First Presbyterian Church, then said the benediction.

A GRAND PARADE.

When these exercises were completed every one who could press forward to grasp the hand of the new Governor. He finally made his escape through the side door of the opera house, and escorted by the ex-Governor and General Stryker and the State officers, was driven to the reviewing stand in front of the State House. The streets were lined with people from all over the State, who, failing to obtain a sight of the proceedings in the opera house, waited patiently for the procession of political gladiators to arrive. The procession was a feature of the day. The parade moved at 12:30 and 6,000 men were in line.

The parade reviewed Governor Griggs, ex-Governor Werts and a select party drove to the Trenton House, where they had lunch at 3 o'clock. The Governor's party started for the State House. The escorting officers had a difficult task in forcing their way into the State House and escorting the Governor to his room. The floral decorations were beautiful, and the public reception was held here. The members of the houses of the Legislature assembled about the same hour, and at once adjourned for a week. For almost two hours the crush continued, and then a recess was had, during which the Governor rested. When the hour of 8 o'clock arrived and the second public reception opened, there were 2,000 people waiting in front of the Capitol, and almost as many more had gone away confident they would be unable to reach the Governor.

GOVERNOR GRIGGS'S INAUGURAL. In his inaugural Governor Griggs commented on the simplicity of the ceremonies attending the transfer of the executive branch of the government from one incumbent to another. He said such simplicity was fitting to the nature of a republic. It would be a gratification for him to leave unmentioned the fact that the ceremony had just witnessed marked the passing of the executive control of the State from one political party to another. The value of political parties in a republican government was too well established to need comment.

The Famous Reformer Urging the People of the State to Organize Against the "Strongholds of Legislative Manipulation and Chicanery."

Rochester, Jan. 21.—Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst delivered here to-night the first of a series of addresses to be made during a tour of the Empire State. His purpose is to arouse the people throughout the State to concerted action against legislation which he thinks will not be for the best interests of the communities concerned. He said:

"The key to the entire situation in New York is the Police Department, and if you at all keep up with events in my city you know that although Tammany Hall was driven out of municipal power a year ago, the police force which affects to be enforcing our laws to-day is a Tammany police force, and in its general make-up no more of the two cities affords an opportunity of getting rid of Mr. Roosevelt, at least, and his fellow Police Commissioners, and the Broadway expressman, as we who know something about him interpret him, is crazed with that amount of demagogic self-regard that he would be willing to martyr those two cities, divorce those two cities or damn those two cities if by the means he could promote his own purposes.

EXPLORES FOR REVOLT. "Now, consolidation will be worked in the interests of the aforesaid conspirator unless there comes to be an appreciation of his design and unless public sentiment is sufficiently stirred to rise in revolt, and my object in referring to this is to implore you, as you value and sympathize with the reform movement, to make your influence felt in our behalf upon the Senators and Assemblymen who represent you at Albany, and, as State legislators, will have a share in determining our municipal future.

"We sympathize with you here in Rochester in all that you have been able lately to secure for yourselves, and in all the movement forward which you have been able to achieve we feel that it is in a very important sense true that the cause of municipal reform is one cause throughout the entire State; that whatever progress we make helps you, and whatever progress you make helps us.

"It has occurred to me whether there is not a good deal of effective work that may be put in in pursuance of the idea of concertedness of effort extending itself throughout the entire State, looking to a massing of honest sentiment against the strongholds of legislative manipulation and chicanery, meeting organization with organization. Sentiment against the sort of trick represented by bosses and political tricksters is being developed in this State with a good deal of energy, and I am confidently looking

Holden of Chicago Stocks Appeal from Altgeld to the Courts.

New York Owners of Principal Blocks Insist Upon the Consolidation Scheme.

MANDAMUS IS THEIR WEAPON.

Other Means May Be Employed in a War to Be Carried on in Illinois, but Directed from Offices in New York.

The bears of Wall Street took a turn at attacking Chicago Gas stock yesterday, because of the report that the combination of the four principal Chicago gas companies had concluded to combine and fight Governor Altgeld and Attorney-General Maloney to a finish. Advice received at the offices of Roswell P. Flower and E. C. Benedict, the two largest owners of Chicago Gas stock, were to the effect that the papers for the consolidation of the Chicago gas companies had been sent to the Secretary of State of Illinois to be filed, but on the advice of Attorney-General Maloney had not been accepted. The companies interested are the Chicago Gaslight and Coke Company, the People's Gaslight and Coke Company, the Consumers' Gas Company, and the Equitable Gaslight and Fuel Company. PREFERS LOW COMPANY TO HOME.

Caught Four Times in This City and Sent Back to His Father, Who Lives in Worcester, Mass., by the Society in Whose Charge He Is.

Harry Howes is fifteen years old and small for his age. His father lives in Worcester, Mass., and Harry lives with his father a few months every year. During other months Harry is a wanderer. He has become known to all agents of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children in this city as a chronic runaway. Monday afternoon the lotteries about Dry Dollar Sullivan's saloon, opposite the Tombs, were much amused by Harry. He was very drunk and he did a great many foolish things. When he fell to the pavement because his alcohol paralyzed brain could not control his small legs the crowd was delighted.

It was then Agent King, of the Children's Society, appeared. He had never seen the little fellow drunk before and did not recognize him until he had taken him to the Centre Street Court Erlson.

Yesterday Harry told Magistrate Brann that he had been living at the Newsboys' Lodging House, had been seized with a desire "to get full," and had hypothesized his overcoat with an East Side pawnbroker for 50 cents.

"It was no trouble to get the stuff," he said. "There was a place I struck over in Eighth avenue and they gave me what I asked for. I stood up against the bar and put down five or six shillings, and it made me feel out of sight. I don't know whether I had whiskey or not. It was the first time I ever got so full."

He said that his father didn't care for him, that his stepmother had come into the family. The Magistrate remanded him to the custody of the Gerry Society. Harry begged to be sent to the House of Refuge rather than to his Worcester home. He said all he wanted was a chance and he would promise to reform his ways and live a better life. He felt very sick yesterday morning in spite of the restoratives and had administered.

Within the past year he has been arrested four times. His father in Worcester has always sent on to have him come home whenever he has been in difficulty. Harry has a fondness for drink and low company, but is not criminal. Last year he followed a cheap theatrical company from Worcester to Washington, and was sent home from this city in November. The Gerry Society's superintendent will try to get him to point out the saloon where he was given the beer and will prosecute the proprietor.

TO BID FOR THE PACKER STOCK.

The Lehigh Valley's Annual Meeting Was Not All Harmony.

Philadelphia, Jan. 21.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company was held to-day, and it developed into a lively session. Among the resolutions offered was one presented by George S. Graham, the District Attorney, as counselor for the minority stockholders, who are opposed to the present management.

This resolution sets forth that a large block of Lehigh Valley stock is owned by the estate of Asa Packer, and the trust to him rests with the Lehigh Valley railroad, it being largely through this stock that these officials retain their places in the road. It is urged that a committee of the three stockholders be appointed, who shall within thirty days submit to the trustees of the Packer estate a bid for the Lehigh Valley stock, and in case of refusal to accept the bid, then to consider what legal steps can be taken to prevent the abuse complained of and secure a compliance with the plain terms of the will of Asa Packer.

The resolution, after a stormy discussion, was referred to a select vote. The old officers will be re-elected to-morrow.

NEW YORK BILLS ACTED UPON.

Among Them Is One Making the Bridge Free to Bicyclists.

Albany, Jan. 21.—The Assembly Cities Committee has decided to report favorably these bills:

Mr. Husted's, compelling the Aqueduct Commissioners of New York City to make more extended reports in reference to appeals; Mr. Gulder's, authorizing the trustees of the New York and Brooklyn Bridge to make the roadways upon the bridge free to bicyclists; Mr. C. C. Smith's, transferring official records from the town of Westchester to New York County; and Mr. Wilson's, providing that the Warren, instead of the Sheriff, New York City, pay to the Comptroller all moneys collected for court fees.

Ex-Clerk McDonald Finds Not Guilty.

Theodore F. McDonald, the former Chief Clerk of the Court of Special Sessions, who is alleged to have misappropriated several thousand dollars, pleaded not guilty to the indictments charging him with grand larceny in the second degree, before Judge Cowing, in Part I. of the General Sessions, yesterday. Lawyer Pincus, who appeared for McDonald, entered the plea with the privilege of withdrawing it before January 27. A demurrer will probably be interposed.

Eighth Avenue Car Resolution Signed.

Mayor Strong was visited yesterday by a delegation composed of James J. Coogan, Charles Russell and Henry Gross, representing property owners above One Hundred and Fifth street on Eighth avenue, and urged to sign the resolution passed by the Board of Aldermen calling on the Eighth Avenue Railroad Company to extend in the second degree, before Judge Cowing, in Part I. of the General Sessions, yesterday. Lawyer Pincus, who appeared for McDonald, entered the plea with the privilege of withdrawing it before January 27. A demurrer will probably be interposed.
